

The Aquinas Institute, Blackfriars, Oxford

---

RÉGINALD GARRIGOU-LAGRANGE AND SOME DISPUTED
QUESTIONS IN 20TH CENTURY CATHOLIC THOUGHT

Saturday 27 November 2010      10.00-17.00

Philosophical Adequacy: Garrigou-Lagrange on the Thought of Bergson and Blondel

Richard Peddicord OP
Aquinas Institute of Theology, St Louis, Missouri

Garrigou-Lagrange after Chenu on the Nature of Theology: a Critical Disciple of his Disciple

Henry Donneaud OP
Institut Catholique de Toulouse

Garrigou and de Lubac on Divine Revelation

Aidan Nichols OP
Blackfriars, Cambridge

General Discussion

- including responses by Philip Endean SJ (Campion Hall, Oxford), John Sullivan
(Liverpool Hope University), and Thomas Crean OP (Holy Cross, Leicester)

This colloquium will consider the work and legacy of Réginald Garrigou-Lagrange OP (1877-1964). A key figure in 20th century Catholic thought, his philosophical convictions, articulated in responses to Bergson and Blondel among others, supported theological positions that contrasted controversially with those of a number of figures associated with the nouvelle théologie.

For further information, and registration, contact the colloquium convenor
Francis Murphy, Magdalen College, High Street, Oxford OX1 4AU

Telephone + 44 7958 708924      Email francis.murphy@theology.ox.ac.uk